Frequency of Response Questions

Ask the various stakeholder groups the same questions: essentially a SWOT analysis:

- What do you think are the strengths of your school?
- What do you think are the challenges facing the school?
- What do you think the school can do in the future to make the strengths even stronger?
- What do you think the school can do to overcome the challenges?

Collect the responses from the various stakeholder groups and look for patterns based on the frequency of response.

Multiple Table Method

Using either the questions above or questions the team has decided on, divide the stakeholder groups into roughly even groups and distribute to the members of the visiting team. Each team member asks their group the same questions. Debrief with the entire visiting team and look for patterns of responses. This method creates a more intimate atmosphere and allows for more voices to be heard.
